

The brand new Royal Petite Boxed Knit Kit

I know that, as a knitter, I'm not always the easiest person to buy a gift for. No one seems to know what I would like (which is usually just more yarn!). But this year is different because Blue Sky Alpacas just released Royal Petite Boxed Knit Kits, which come complete with two Royal Petite balls and a Royal Petite Pattern! Now, I can buy a gift for a knitting girlfriend, and a little treat for me, too. With seven pattern options, there is something for everyone!

If you would also love to have a brand new Royal Petite Boxed Knit Kit land in your stocking this year, just print this post and share with friends and family. They'll know just what to purchase for you at the neighborhood LYS.

This holiday season you'll be all set to gather with family and knit (maybe with a glass of eggnog!).
